

Free Resources for Individuals with Print Disabilities!

Bookshare

Recordings for the Blind and Dyslexic

Bookshare and Recordings for the Blind and Dyslexic are two free resources providing accessible formats of text for individuals with a print disability . Listed below are short descriptions and links to the services and membership qualifications:

Bookshare.org - Bookshare provides books, textbook and periodicals for individuals with print disabilities. Bookshare is free to all US students in K-12 and postsecondary education for those with a qualifying disability. Bookshare provides a searchable data base of books by author and title which are available in different electronic formats. Only text formats are available . Individual and organizational memberships are available. Check the membership qualifications through the following link:

Bookshare Membership Options - Find information on how to become a member, who is eligible through this link.

Recordings for the Blind and Dyslexic (RFB&D.org) - Provides accessible materials to individual with visual and learning disabilities. From trade to text books RFB&D provides access to electronic and audio books to individual who qualify as print disabled. Free individual memberships are available to those who qualify, memberships to schools and educators are on a fee basis. RFB&D provides a searchable digital audio catalog to locate book titles. Samples are available on their website to experience the quality of their product.

RFB&D Membership Information - Find information on individual, school and educator through this link.

If you are interested in what qualifies as a Print Disability, more in depth information can be found at Cast's Accessible Instructional Materials website.

Happy reading for everyone!!

Carol